Interview 3 · a family member

First end-user interview

A family member who arranged nursing-home care for a parent, twice.

Both times were stressful situations

They were not well informed of the process, everything was quick.

In their view, there is less of a culture of looking after the elderly in Dublin.

Their advice: plan ahead. Legal documents, finances, power of attorney, and “have those conversations when they still have the chance”.

Problem and goals

The problem

Time and choice	Families and the elderly are not prepared when faced with the dilemma of having to choose a nursing home, or they don't get to choose at all.
	Everything happens quite quickly, families and elderlies are already stressed and this is not fair for them, despite the information supposed to be all available online.
Information	There is no central repository for information.
	The information exists but in pieces: Fair Deal, nursing home websites, inspection reports, all in different places.
What we heard	Families rarely choose because of the circumstances.

The goals

1 Inform

Where homes are, and the maximum the HSE has agreed they charge.

How to read a HIQA report.

How the process works: Fair Deal, the documents to have ready, the legal side.

2 Make the elderly care sector be more transparent to families

3 Help families

Who we build for

User Personas – A Family Member (1)

Mary

54 · Dublin

Mary, 54 years old, lives in Dublin with her elderly father.

Her father has recently been assessed and the family have started thinking about long-term care options.

She has never gone through this process before and doesn't know where to start especially on the financial side.

She comes across several nursing homes online but has no way of comparing them meaningfully.

She finds HIQA reports but they are long, technical, and difficult to interpret.

She wants a quick, clear summary of each home so she can build a shortlist and she wants guidance on the related financial process.

Declan

61 · Limerick

Declan, 61 years old, lives in Limerick and is looking after his mother.

His mother has been assessed and needs to move into a nursing home within the next few weeks.

He knows she needs high dependency care following a stroke and has a preferred area in mind, but doesn't know which homes meet her needs.

He needs to compare several homes quickly and present a shortlist to his siblings before a family decision is made.

He finds individual HIQA reports but has no way to filter or compare them side by side.

He wants to filter homes by care type and compliance record and share his shortlist with the rest of the family easily.

User Personas – The Elderly

Michael

68 · Dublin

Michael, 68 years old, lives alone in Dublin.

Has always been independent and managed well at home, but has started to realise he may eventually need more support with everyday activities.

He wants to be involved in the decision making with his family.

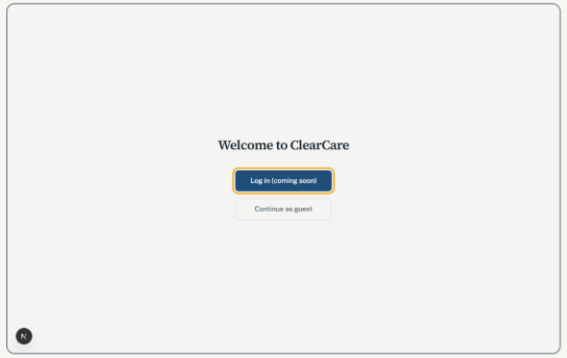

He comes across several nursing homes but finds it difficult to work out how they compare.

He discovers HIQA reports but they're quite lengthy and contain a lot of information.

He doesn't want to know which is “best”, but wants to see evidence that a nursing home is capable of providing care.

Next week

Goals for next week

1. Reports into the database
   Store the parsed hiqa reports into database; then preview these in UI

2. Guides
   Fair Deal, documents, the legal side, how to read a report · medical topics such as dementia and Alzheimer's

3. Comparison Grid View
   Two homes, the same regulations, “not assessed” visible

4. Data Visualization page
   The older population now and projected, from CSO and Department of Health data
